

Global Emerging Markets Sustainability All-Cap Strategy

Stewart Investors

Risk factors

This document is a financial promotion for the Global Emerging Markets Sustainability All-Cap Strategy intended for retail and professional clients in the UK, and for professional clients only in Switzerland, the EEA and elsewhere where lawful.

Investing involves certain risks including:

- > The value of investments and any income from them may go down as well as up and are not guaranteed. Investors may get back significantly less than the original amount invested.
- > Emerging market risk: Emerging markets tend to be more sensitive to economic and political conditions than developed markets. Other factors include greater liquidity risk, restrictions on investment or transfer of assets, failed/delayed settlement and difficulties valuing securities.
- > Currency risk: the strategy invests in assets which are denominated in other currencies; changes in exchange rates will affect the value of the strategy and could create losses. Currency control decisions made by governments could affect the value of the strategy's investments and could cause the strategy to defer or suspend redemptions of its shares.

Where featured, specific securities or companies are intended as an illustration of investment strategy only, and should not be construed as investment advice or a recommendation to buy or sell any security.

All information included in this material has been sourced by Stewart Investors and is displayed as at 30 September 2023 unless otherwise specified and to the best of our knowledge is an accurate reflection as at this date.

About Stewart Investors

We are an active, long-only equity investment business with stewardship and sustainability at the heart of our investment philosophy and culture since 1988. As a team, we have been managing explicit sustainability portfolios since 2005 and a Global Emerging Markets Sustainability All-Cap Strategy since 2009.

Due to capacity constraints of the all-cap strategy and strong demand and desire to offer clients an emerging markets sustainability solution, we also launched the Global Emerging Markets Leaders Sustainability Strategy in April 2020. Leaders simply means that the strategy is focused on companies with a market cap over USD1 billion.

Investment aim

To generate long-term, risk-adjusted returns for our clients by investing in the shares of high-quality companies that are particularly well positioned to contribute to, and benefit from, sustainable development.

Investment philosophy

- > We are stewards. Our role is to allocate society's capital to productive uses, in accordance with our Hippocratic Oath.
- > We are long term. Our time horizon is measured in years, not weeks, and we value companies accordingly.
- > We invest only in companies contributing to a more sustainable future. We engage constructively as owners to help companies on their sustainability journeys.
- > We invest only in high-quality companies. We invest in companies with exceptional cultures, strong franchises and resilient financials.
- > We believe capital preservation is important for capital growth. We define risk as the possibility of the permanent loss of client capital.

This philosophy is proven across strategies and business cycles for nearly four decades.

Since launch date for turnover: 18 February 2019. Parameters shown are guidelines only and not hard risk limits. This information is provided for illustrative purposes to demonstrate Stewart Investors' activity within the strategy for the period shown. It is not a recommendation or solicitation to purchase or invest in any fund. Differences between the representative account-specific constraints, currency or fees and those of a similarly managed fund or mandate would affect results.

Sustainability in emerging markets

We seek to invest in high-quality companies that produce necessary products and services in a responsible manner. We believe that incorporating sustainability considerations into our stock picking helps us in two ways.

- > Developing countries will not be able to follow the same resource-intensive and consumption-driven model of development taken by today's developed countries. We are looking for companies that are well positioned to meet the challenge of sustainable development. We have strong conviction that such companies face fewer risks and are better placed to deliver positive, long-term returns to shareholders.
- > Sustainability is a particularly useful approach to gauge the quality of companies. We believe managers and owners who treat their employees, the environment and society at large well are more likely to allow minority shareholders to participate in the success of the business; in contrast, we believe those who are willing to cut corners are likely to act in unscrupulous ways if given the opportunity. Incorporating sustainability in this way aids our bottom-up stock picking process. In emerging markets, insisting on robust governance is crucial to risk mitigation since corporate governance standards are often poor.

While we don't carry out negative screening, the output of our bottom-up approach means that we do not invest in companies with material exposure to harmful products, including weapons, tobacco, alcohol, gambling and fossil fuels. Nor do we believe we need to invest in such companies to deliver the long-term, sustainable returns our clients expect. Visit our website to view our position on harmful and controversial products and services, and our climate change statement.

Top 10 holdings - high conviction

We have a bottom-up approach and aim to invest only in well-stewarded, high-quality companies with sustainability at the heart of all investment considerations. Our portfolios are high conviction (top 10 holdings typically 30%-50%) and are completely benchmark agnostic.

Performance review

Our investment philosophy focuses on delivering strong absolute returns over cycles. This focus means that we define risk as the loss of clients' capital rather than in terms of deviation from any benchmark index. As a result, our performance is likely to lag steeply rising markets, but deliver better results in falling markets. We believe this approach has served clients well over time and over cycles.
